One day Shafiqul, whom he knew, offered him the opportunity to bring cattle from India. He was allured by the money that would be earned by doing this work. Indian cattle traders keep cows in a specific house, beside the BSF camp at the border with specific colour marks. The BSF members on duty at the border let the cattle traders know, in exchange of money, the exact time when cows would be sent to Bangladesh. The cattle traders were informed accordingly. Bangladesh by crossing the border. For this work Taka 2500 to 3000 could be earned for each cow. At about 12.00 am they left for Bangladesh with 10 cows. After talking with BSF members, one Indian broker told them to cross the border with the cows. They were told by the brokers that the BSF would not shoot at them as per verbal agreement.

Being assured by the brokers, they left with cows through sub pillar 4 of the main pillar 4 near Pakhidanga BSF camp at Kalutola border area. At one stage they got entangled with the BSF members and had an argument. When they were crossing the iron fence, the BSF members started firing at them. Rekatul and he were hit in the back while Zakir was hit in his finger. After being hit, Rekatul was shouting and ran away to cross the border and fell on the ground unconscious. Shahadat laid down in a paddy field. His companions used his cell phone to call his father and Rekatul's brother Arizul. He was brought home by his father on a local carriage drawn by horses. He took first aid from a village doctor at night. On April 18, 2011 at about 8.30 am he was admitted to Nazmun Clinic at Satkhira and treated there.
